Integrity as Strategy: How the Private Sector Can Lead the Future of Anti-Corruption

SURVEY

- IMD-UNDP Survey on Business Integrity: Experiences, Practices, and Perceptions of Corruption and its Drivers, 2026

“Global Initiative for Measuring Corruption – Private Sector Survey” is a joint initiative by UNDP and IMD aimed at capturing private sector experiences with corruption and bribery across 60 countries. The survey gathers insights on companies’ interactions with public officials and access to public services, helping inform policies to strengthen public sector integrity and improve the business environment, while giving business leaders a voice in shaping anti-corruption efforts.
